Comparing Pharmacy Options: Is Cost Plus Drugs Right for You?

Judi Rx™

What is Cost Plus Drugs (Mark Cuban Drug Company)?
Mark Cuban Cost Plus Drugs (MCCPD) is an online pharmacy that offers a list of generic medications at transparent prices.

Is Cost Plus Drugs an in-network pharmacy?
Yes. Mark Cuban Cost Plus Drugs is part of the Judi Rx retail pharmacy network.

How can I compare my pharmacy options?
You can use the Judi Rx member portal or mobile app to compare prices across all in-network pharmacies and find the most cost-effective and convenient option. Pricing shown in the Judi Rx member portal does not include all applicable Cost Plus Drugs fees and shipping.

What types of medications are available with Cost Plus Drugs?
Cost Plus Drugs primarily offers generic medications used to treat common conditions, including high blood pressure, diabetes, high cholesterol, and mental health conditions. Not all medications are available, and brand-name drugs are generally not offered.

Can Cost Plus Drugs fill 30-day and 90-day supplies?
Yes. Cost Plus Drugs offers 30-day and 90-day supplies for many medications, depending on medication availability and your plan design. We recommend checking your plan documents to confirm which day supplies are covered and can be filled at retail pharmacies under your plan.

Can Cost Plus Drugs transfer my prescriptions from another pharmacy?
No. Cost Plus Drugs does not accept prescription transfers from other pharmacies. Your healthcare provider must send a new prescription directly to Cost Plus Drugs online pharmacy.

How do I get started with Cost Plus Drugs?
To get started, go to costplusdrugs.com/create-account/ to create your account. You can add your insurance information when you create your account or later in your account settings. Your healthcare provider will need to send a new prescription directly to Cost Plus Drugs, and the prescription must include the same email address you used to create your Cost Plus Drugs account. Once the prescription is received, you can review the price, place your order, and have your medication shipped to your home.

Who should I contact if I have questions or need support?
For help with your pharmacy benefits or questions about your options, please contact Customer Care by calling the phone number on your member ID card.
